Bunyan Collection Unveiled

The Library has recently purchased an unusual collection of rare John Bunyan books for the Rare Book Room. Displays of some of the items in the collection are currently located in the main rotunda of the Cameron Library. President Johns and other members of the faculty were on hand Thursday, November 26, to view the display.

These 103 books were slowly searched for, one by one, over a period of thirty years, by a Bunyan enthusiast, Ralph Ewart Ford, who lived in Bedford, England, the town where Bunyan spent his whole life. The Library was fortunate to be able to secure this complete collection. According to Dr. J. F. Forrest, Associate Professor of English and a specialist in this field, the Library now has the most important Bunyan research collection on the continent, with the exception of the Huntington Library and the New York Public Library.

John Bunyan today is known mainly as the author of The Pilgrim's Progress. In his own day, however, he had a widespread reputation as the author of over 60 theological books and sermons. He was also known as one of hundreds of lay preachers in Puritan England, who suffered persecution for belief in a personal relationship between God and man, and the right to preach his belief freely with no control imposed by church and state.

Bunyan's three most important books are The Pilgrim's Progress, The Holy War, & Grace Abounding. The Library was fortunate to secure the rare third edition of Pilgrim's Progress. There are only seven other recorded copies. Some of the children's illustrated editions of this book reflect the surroundings of the period. In the American edition the characters appear in Davy Crockett costumes, and in Chinese editions, they appear in Chinese costumes. The Pilgrim's Progress has been translated into 108 languages and dialects.

One of eight known copies in the world of the rare third edition of The Pilgrim's Progress is on display.

Dr. J. F. Forrest of the English Department explains the significance of this Bunyan Collection to President Johns and Miss Dorothy Hamilton, Rare Book Librarian, who arranged the displays.

Mr. Bruce Peel, Librarian; Professor E. S. Keeping, Professor Emeritus of Mathematics; Professor O. Starchuk, Head of Slavonic Languages; President Johns and Miss Hamilton view the display cases in the Cameron Library foyer.

FACULTY NOTES

Whiteshell Nuclear Research Establishment

Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., a Crown corporation, invited eleven of our faculty members to visit their Whiteshell Nuclear Research Establishment at Pinawa, Manitoba, November 25th to 27th. Atomic Energy of Canada set up the first nuclear reactor at Chalk River during the Second World War. The Whiteshell unit was set up during the past year to concentrate particularly on the development of nuclear power installations and the selling of nuclear reactors to other countries. The visit was designed to familiarize the University of Alberta delegates with the work being done there in order that they propose ways in which these studies and those being carried out at the University of Alberta could be inter-related. The delegation was composed of Dr. R. M. Hardy (Engineering), Dr. B. E. Riedel (Pharmacy), Dr. G. B. Walker (Electrical Engineering), Dr. G. R. Freeman (Chemistry), Dr. H. W. Taylor (Physics), Professor E. O. Lilje (Mining and Metallurgy), Dr. J. S. Kennedy (Mechanical Engineering), Dr. F. L. Weichman (Physics), Dr. W. E. Harris (Chemistry), Dr. I. G. Dalla Lana (Chemical Engineering), and Dr. G. W. R. Walker (Genetics).

World Peace Through World Law

The Department of Extension is presenting a 2 day public affairs conference at the Faculty Club, December 4 and 5. The conference will examine, in terms of the new international milieu of recent weeks, the new possibilities for peace-keeping, arms control, and the establishment of world peace through law. Lt. General E. L. M. Burns, Advisor to the Government of Canada on Disarmament and Dr. Leo Gross of Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy and Harvard Law School will be guest speakers at the Conference. Other speakers include Arthur R. Smith, former M. P. and member of the Canadian Delegation to the United Nations, Professor Grant Davey, Professor Ivan Head, Professor J. King Gordon, and Professor Neville Linton.

Faculty members attending the two full days will be granted a special registration fee of $15.00, including two luncheons at the Club, or $10.00 for one full day, including lunch. They are urged to register in advance through the Department of Extension.

Visitation of Soviet Delegates

Twenty-two delegates from the Soviet Union, who have been guests of the American State Department, will be in Edmonton December 10, 11, & 12. They will visit the campus December 11. Details of their itinerary have yet to be confirmed. Among the delegates are the Rector (Pres.) of the Medical Institute in Kiev, eight university professors, actors, writers, and members of the Academy of Sciences in both the Ukraine and the Soviet Union.

Nobel Peace Prize

University Professors of Political Science, Law, History, and Philosophy are considered duly qualified persons to propose candidates for the Nobel Peace Prize. All proposals must be sent to the Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Parliament, Drammensveien 19, Oslo, before February 1, 1965. The grounds upon which any proposal is made must be stated and handed in along with such papers and documents (include biographical data). Every written work to qualify for a prize must have appeared in print.

Canada Council Grants

The Canada Council has authorized grants to the University of Alberta for specialized library collections in the amount of $3000 for purchases in the field of Music and $2000 for purchases in the field of African Studies.

External Aid Training Programs

Sixty-six External Aid Students from 21 different countries are currently studying at the Edmonton campus of the University of Alberta with the assistance of the Canadian Government.

The ultimate objective of these Canadian training programs, which are taking place at educational institutions throughout the nation, is the development of an indigenous training capability in the emerging countries. Although training is offered in any field of activity found in Canada, requesting countries are asked to assure themselves that similar facilities are not available, or are in some respect deficient in that country. Moreover, they are asked to ensure to the greatest extent possible that persons trained in Canada will upon return, convey their skills to others either in the formal setting of educational institutions or in information situations.

The Hon. Mr. Paul Martin, Secretary of State for External Affairs, who is responsible for Canada's External Aid programs, states that "During the past three years, the Canadian Government has steadily and substantially increased the educational aspects of our external aid programs. In the fiscal year 1963-64, expenditures on education projects increased almost four times over the expenditures under Canada's bilateral aid program. The importance of this figure is clearer when it is realized that most of these expenditures are for the provision of personnel, in contrast to the much greater sums involved in large capital projects. It is expected that this trend will continue and that increasing amounts of aid funds will be used to meet requests for educational technical assistance. In addition, we have accepted commitments in the current fiscal year for capital projects in the education field estimated to cost over $4 million."

These External Aid Students at the University of Alberta widely represent the emerging nations in Africa and Asia. Their representation is as follows: 15 from UGANDA (in Education); 9 from PAKISTAN (3 in Science, 2 in Engineering, 2 in Pharmacy, 1 in Agriculture, 1 in Education); 8 from INDIA (5 in Engineering, 1 in Agriculture, 1 in Science); 7 from SINGAPORE (3 in Agriculture, 2 in Medicine, 2 in Engineering); 4 from GHANA (2 in Med., 2 in Dentistry); 4 from MALAYA (in Medicine); 3 from RHODESIA (in Education); 2 from NIGERIA (in Education); and 1 from each of - AUSTRALIA (Engineering); BASUTOLAND (Engineering); BRITAIN (Science); CEYLON (Engineering); INDONESIA (Agriculture); JAMAICA (Education); KOREA (Education); NEPAL (Science); SARAWAK (Engineering); SWAZILAND (Pharmacy); TRINIDAD (Education).
